VALLEY INDOOR MEET NEXT ON TIGER PROGRAM

Kansas Is Endowed With Better Indoor Track Team Than Missouri—No Alibis to Offer.

WADDELL WAS A STAR

Coaches Wonder if Conference Classic Will Be Success in Convention Hall This Week.

Adorned with a tag marked "seconds," the Tigers are again in their own backyard, drilling for the final attraction of the indoor track season, the Missouri Valley meet at Kansas City Saturday evening.

There were perhaps thousands who came to Convention Hall last Friday confident that Mizoo would in some manner forge to the front in traditional style. But as had been predicted, they witnessed the only decisive victory for Mr. Jayhawk in nineteen years of combat. Not the first victory, for there was a one point verdict in 1913, but the first real track maneuver that the Mt. Orean natives could crow about in that span of years.

HUMBLE PIE FOR M. U.
Great has been the Tiger in his many years of achievement on the track, but there was no seat for him at the banquet table Friday night. He had not been invited and when it was all over, Mr. Tiger knew that it was the Jayhawk's feast and that that carnivorous animal, starved for so many years, was well deserving of the feast of many courses. Humble pie was the Missouri desert. Rollicking boys and girls from Lawrence paraded with a hand, while Missouri followers quietly plodded home and prayed for another time and another year.

The inevitable question of the hour, "What was the matter?" can best be answered, "It is a Kansas year." There haven't been many such years so let them be happy while they may. A victory in football, and with one on the indoor track almost assured, it was only to be expected that the Jayhawk's answer to Missouri's challenge in basketball should be "No."

Coach Simpson's men need no apology. They fought nobly, but the odds were too great. That they will improve with experience as the season advances is certain. Kansas in track is in her zenith year.

On the outdoor track, with more events on the program, the chance for snatching back the sweet fruits should not be slim. It is unfortunate, but not a tear-spilling coincidence that the Tigers should face a stupendous program in track this year with only fair prospects. Yes—Scholz, Pittam, Simpson, Nicholson, Barlow and all the other greats—would have revelled in the program of 1922.

VALLEY MEET NEXT
The "how" of the Valley meet at Kansas City this week-end is a sort of Chinese puzzle. Just how the meet is to be handed is not known and so far as can be learned so one is tearing his hair about it. How all the Valley teams can struggle fairly for honors on the narrow oval at Convention Hall is a problem that will confront the coaches when they gather on Friday or Saturday, unless it is solved before then.

Henry F. Schulte of Nebraska propounded the idea of an indoor Valley meet. The Big Ten holds one every year, in such spacious places as Patton Gymnasium at Northwestern and the Illinois Armory at Champaign. It is significant that when in session, discussing the idea, Missouri alone vetoed the project.

"We could not see the practicability of holding such a large meet in Convention Hall," said Z. C. Clevenger, K. C. A. C. officials who are in the habit of sending a dozen grammar school teams around the track, with very little commotion will find that the same system will not work out where a dozen crack runners are entered in one short distance event. There will be fouling and more fouling, and most of it will be unavoidable. One can easily recall the fouls that have occurred in K. U.—M. U. meets where no more than four runners were entered with maybe two trying to make a turn at the same time. It is probable that there will be preliminaries and some events will be doubtless be accorded to the entrants making the best time. Such an arrangement is not always satisfactory.

DOC REILLY DOESN'T KNOW.
Dr. J. A. Reilly, who is supposed to be in charge of the classic, said Friday that he did not know about the arrangements. Earl Maxwell, Missouri's best bet in the middle distances, said yesterday that he was drawing a second row position or even a last place in the first row would be "out of luck" at the get-a-way in the classy field that is certain to be present.

If the same redeeming features turn up Saturday for the Tigers that were present in the meet last Friday, the Missourians may have a look-in. Doug Waddell's showing did more to buoy Bob Simpson's spirits than any other one thing. The sophomore turned the tables on Everett Bradley and won out in the high hurdles and was high-point man for Missouri by virtue of two firsts and a second, giving him one point less than Bradley for individual honors of the evening. Kansas City writers gave Waddell a victory "due to Bradley's fall at the finish."

The burly Kansas did get his feet mixed up but he did not fall until Waddell had crossed the line ahead of him. The veterans, Hamilton and Maxwell, came through with their usual good form and can be expected to repeat reasonably well in the Valley meet. Hamilton's feat in breaking the pole-vault record was most noteworthy.

CENTRAL HIGH GAINS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Kansas City's Blue and White Wins From Northeast in Deciding Game by a Score of 28-24.

DIVISION 1

Fayette 33, Mexico 26.
DIVISION 11
Finals
Kansas City Central 28, Kansas City Northeast 24.

INTER-DIVISION
Kansas City Central 65, Fayette 8.

Central High School of Kansas City today is celebrating the winning of three championships in the high-school basketball tournament of the University, which closed Saturday night. The speedy blue and white team, by defeating Northeast High School of the same city, won the Kansas City high school title as well as the championship in division 11, and by overwhelming Fayette, winners in Division 1, gained possession of the state championship and of the cup offered by the Thomas E. Wilson Sporting Goods Co.

The Central-Fayette game provided little more than practice for the Kansas City five. The Division 1 champions were completely lost on the big court, while the Central was finding the basket from all angles. The final score was 65 to 8. Fayette scored only twice from the field and four times from the free lane. The first half ended 36 to 3.

The final game was an anti-climax to that between Central and Northeast, which was a thriller from the first whistle. The two teams had finished the season in the Kansas City high school league in a tie.

Elections in themselves are valueless. It is the end sought that lends them importance. This end is the successful administration of the student body.

Could a fairer criterion be found than that which lies in the ability of any candidate for any office to define the problems of administration and to suggest a definite program?

If the student body insists upon such definitions and a sequence of solutions and supports the man with the best ideas, the greatest problem of all—the administration of the student body—will automatically answer it self.
